RE-IMAGINING THE POLITICAL
A RESEARCH SEMINAR
VERONA, 3-4 NOVEMBER 2016

Nov. 3
AULA SEMINARI
SECONDO PIANO PALAZZO ZORZI
Lungadige Porta Vittoria 17
h 10.30 – 13
Chair: Olivia Guaraldo
University of Verona

MARIANO CROCE
Sapienza – University of Rome
Does critique need meanings? When imaginings speak for themselves

BOB BRECHER
University of Brighton
The language of neoliberalism and what to do about it

h. 14.30 – 18.30
Chair: Lorenzo Bernini, University of Verona

ANNALISA CERON
University of Milan
Rethinking friendship and politics: two models of political friendship

CLARE WOODFORD
University of Brighton
Capacity for change: Derrida, melancholy and post redemption politics

MATTEO BORTO LINI
University of Padua
Found in Translation: Jürgen Habermas, Anthropotechnics, And Postsecularism

Nov. 4
SALA RIUNIONI SR2
PIANO TERRA PALAZZO DI LETTERE
Via S. Francesco 22
Chair: Carlotta Cossutta, University of Eastern Piedmont, Vercelli
h. 10.30 – 13

OLIVIA GUARALDO
University of Verona
On public happiness

MARK DEVENNEY
University of Brighton
‘Why Democracy is always Improper’: Thinking the Political after Ranciere, Butler and Laclaud

Discussants
ADRIANA CAVARERO, University of Verona
LORENZO BERNINI, University of Verona
CARLO TTA C O S S U T T A, University of Eastern Piedmont, Vercelli
ARIANNA MAINARDI, University of Verona
VALERIA MERCANDINO, University of Verona
VALERIA VENDITTI, Sapienza - University of Rome
ILARIA POSSENTI, University of Verona

The Hannah Arendt Center
for Political Studies
University of Verona

CAPPE
Centre for Applied Philosophy, Politics and Ethics
University of Brighton